

What are LifeGroups?

LifeGroups are small groups, typically no more than 15 people, that meet in homes during the week to provide an opportunity to build community and grow in the faith. Each LifeGroup has a Host, either an individual or couple, that provides a welcoming atmosphere and helps facilitate the group.

What do you do at a LifeGroup meeting?

All LifeGroups follow the same general format for a 90-minute gathering. There's time for sharing about each other's week, the group watches a video presentation, there's discussion about the video, and finally time to pray for the needs of everyone.

What kind of commitment am I making if I join a LifeGroup?

LifeGroups meet either weekly or bi-weekly for a specific timeframe. For example, this fall we are starting the week of September 10th and ending at the end of November. Your level of commitment is up to you, however once you're part of a LifeGroup we think you'll want to make it an important date on your schedule. If you have a life change that effects your schedule or simply don't like a group you can always stop attending at any time.

How do I join a LifeGroup?

We've listed the current LifeGroups below according to the day that meet. To visit or join a LifeGroup simply contact the host ahead of time.

Note: Some groups may be at their meeting capacity, please contact the hosts before attending.
